FIRE IN A HOTEL.

Conrad Damaged Almost to Extent of $10,000.

THE ORIGIN IS A MYSTERY.

Incendiarism Suggested by Circumstances—The Fire Started in the Hay Mow of H. V. Kramer's Barn, in the Back Part of the Hotel Building—A Wall Confined Flames to the North End.

The origin of the fire that damaged the Hotel Conrad Friday night will probably never be known. The fire started in the hay mow of H. V. Kramer's livery barn, which is in the back part of the hotel building. It was discovered shortly before 9 o'clock. Frank Genet, of 286 North Mill street, walking in Mill street, noticed smoke coming from a window of the second floor of the barn at the Plum street end. He immediately notified Mr. Kramer, who, with his chief hostler, Edward Fox, was in the office of the barn. Mr. Kramer telephoned an alarm to the central engine house, and ordered his men to get the horses and carriages out of the place.

The mow was now filled with fire and smoke. Mr. Kramer states it contained 40 tons of baled hay, 20 tons of baled straw and 200 or 300 bales of shavings. The firemen threw seven streams of water into the place, but as there was only a wooden partition between the barn and the hotel, the fire quickly got into the latter. The flames were prevented from spreading throughout the entire building, but the water and smoke did much damage. The flames burned through the roof of the barn part of the building. There was no floor between the second and third floors of the barn, the hay, straw and shavings being piled to the roof of the place.

Few of the guests had retired when the fire was discovered, so the firemen were not hampered by being compelled to carry people from the house. With a few exceptions all of the guests succeeded in saving their belongings. The furniture of many of the rooms was completely wrecked, a considerable quantity of it being dropped from the windows.

The damage to the walls of the hotel building, which is of brick, and three stories high, cannot be accurately estimated. S. A. Conrad, proprietor of the building, stated Saturday morning, that he did not think his entire damage would exceed $10,000, and perhaps would not reach that amount. He says the loss is fully covered by insurance.

Bert Hankins, who conducted a news and cigar store in one of the Mill street rooms of the hotel, says his damage amounts to about $500, fully insured.

H. V. Kramer estimates his damage at between $500 and $600, fully insured.

The firemen state that it was a hard fire to fight. It was confined entirely to the hotel building, and the smoke was so dense in all the rooms that work was much retarded.

A full force of volunteers worked at the fire. The chief sent in a general alarm as soon as he learned of the situation, and the volunteers responded promptly.

"It's odd," remarked a fireman Saturday, "that all our big fires occur on the eighth of the month. The Russell & Co., street fair, Bee Hive, Milleronian, David Jones and West Brookfield fires all took place on the eighth of the month. The Neal fire really occurred on the eighth also. We got the alarm one minute before midnight on the seventh. Most of the burning was done on the eighth if it did originate on the seventh."

Fire Chief Burkle's knowledge of the structure of the building and the conditions within, gained when he made the annual inspection last summer, was of great value to him in the intelligent direction of the firemen's efforts. He was frequently urged, by knowing citizens, to break the windows on the east side of the barn, and throw water from that point, but he knew of the existence of a huge bin on that side, and was confident that the fire could not thus be reached. He maintained that the fire would break out first on the west side, and was from that point that the battle was waged, principally. The chief ordered holes cut in the roof at certain points, and at these the men fought till forced back by the heat and smoke. The fire was confined mainly to that portion of the building north of the fire wall. This wall stands about twenty feet south of the south end of the barn part. The tin roof helped the firemen materially. The firemen worked hard and with good judgment. Chief Burkle says the volunteers never worked to better advantage. The fire in the hotel part was principally in the attic and there was danger in fighting it.

Mr. Kramer has no settled theory in regard to the origin. "I dont' like to think that anyone set the place afire," said he, Saturday, "but it looks very suspicious. There were no electric wires in that part of the barn, and there had not been a light of any kind for a full two hours. Spontaneous combustion is not a reasonable theory. Loose, wet hay will sometimes cause combustion, but all of my hay was perfectly dry and baled besides. There was some axle grease and some castor oil in the place, but I don't think they could have been responsible for the fire. I remember hearing a slight explosion, but whether it was before or after the alarm of fire had been sounded I do not recall."

The Western Union Telegraph Company, whose office is in the front part of the hotel, was ready to move, but the extinguishing of the fire rendered this unnecessary. C. Bammerlin, cigar dealer, likewise was ready. Owners of contiguous property were nervous. They are loud in their praise of the firemen for their excellent work.

Landlord Denious states that though breakfast was impossible, dinner was served as usual, as will be all meals hereafter. Lodging accommodations will also be afforded to a limited number of guests, beginning tonight.

A woman employed in the kitchen of the hotel was almost suffocated. She was found asleep in her room at 11 o'clock. The room was filled with smoke. Today she suffers no ill effects.

GUIDED BY RECORD.

Personal Influence Don't Count with Roosevelt.

TWO FATALITIES AT MANILA.

Rear Admiral Rodgers Cables That Two Privates Were Killed at Samar on Nov. 7—William F. Willoughby Appointed Treasurer of the Island of Puerto Rico.

Washington, Nov. 9.—Senator Cullum today called on the President regarding the promotion of Major Ballance, of Peoria, Ill., and Major McClernand, son of General McClernand. The President told them that in filling vacancies in the brigadier general grade influence and personal consideration would not count, that he would be guided solely by record.

Rear Admiral Rodgers, at Manila, cabled today that Privates George Lynchard and E. A. Klenan, had been killed in action at Samar, on November 7. No details were given.

President Roosevelt appointed William F. Willoughby, of the District of Columbia, treasurer of the Island of Puerto Rico, vice Jacob Hollander, resigned.

POPE WALKS WITH A STICK.

He Looks Forward to England's Return to Catholicism.

Rome, Nov. 9.—The Pope today received a number of English pilgrims. His appearance did not indicate that he was suffering from any unusual infirmity. He walked without aid, except that he used a stick. In welcoming the pilgrims he spoke extemporaneously, declaring that he looked forward to the time when England would return to the Catholic faith.

According to one report, the Bishop of Liverpool, in introducing the pilgrims, presented a written address, which was not read because it reiterated the wish of the English Catholics that the Pope would recover his temporary power. The recollections of the stir made some time ago by the address of the Duke of Norfolk induced the Vatican officials to keep today's address a secret.

REAR END COLLISION.

Freight Smashup on the Pittsburg and Western Railroad.

Youngstown, Nov. 9.—In a rear end collision at Lowellville, on the Pittsburg & Western last night, J. T. Shennel, a brakeman of Pittsburg, was killed. Engineer Gates and Brakeman Conerty were injured. The second section of a freight ran into the first, delayed by a broken coupling.

William Beatty, of Alliance, a baggagemaster running on the Pittsburg accommodation train between Pittsburg and Alliance, was brought to Canton Friday evening and locked up in the county jail. Beatty is charged with tampering with the mails. He will be taken to Cleveland Monday.

Sheriff John J. Zaiser has returned from Warren. He brought back with him Albert "Chicken" Moore, under indictment for burglary and larceny. Moore has lost his right arm since his escape from the county jail some weeks ago. He was shot by a farmer in an attempted raid on a chicken coop near Warren and the arm had to be amputated.

James J. Clark, administrator of the state of John Price, deceased, has begun an action in common pleas court against John G. Price. The plaintiff seeks to recover judgment on an alleged promissory note of $1000 and the foreclosure of a mortagge on Canton property. Clark & Clark filed the petition.

Three more candidates have filed statements of their election expenses with the clerk of courts. Judge-elect Henry W. Harter certifies that he expended $464.90; Frank McKinney, sheriff-elect, says that it cost him $221 to make the race; Charles L. Oberly, Democratic candidate for clerk of courts, says that he spent $260.

The following assignments have been made for courts rooms Nos. 1 and 2:

Court room No. 1, Judge McCarty presiding:

Constantine Derringer has begun an action in common pleas court for divorce from Eliazbeth Derringer. The plaintiff, in his petition, says that he was married to the defendant October 30, 1895, and that they have two children, aged respectively 5 and 3 years. He asks for a divorce and the custody of the two children on the grounds of alleged infidelity. The parties reside near Waynesburg. Attorneys Welty & Albaugh filed the petition.

Judge McCarty dismissed the case of Robert N. Ball against the commissioners of Stark county in common pleas court Thursday afternoon. Ball sued the commissioners for $225 and interest, alleging that he had been hired by the commissioners as a fireman at the court house for a year and that he did extra duty as janitor. Plaintiff claimed that he was discharged 3 months before his year was up.

Sheriff J. J. Zaiser went to Warren Friday morning. He expects to return with Albert "Chickens" Moore, under indictment for burglary and larceny. Moore was one of the prisoners who escaped from the county jail. He was later captured at Warren while attempting to rob a hen roost. He was shot in the right arm and it was found necessary to amputate the member.

The visiting committee of charitable and penal institutions of Stark county has filed its report for the year with Judge McCarty. The report states that the city prison and jail were found clean and as well kept as such institutions usually are. The county infirmary was found well kept but the committee find that there is an imperative need for new buildings. The Fairmount children's home is spoken of as a model institution. Referring to the workhouse the report says: "The workhouse is an expensive luxury for the county, but we offer no criticism on its apparent good order and management." The report is signed by Mary K. Hartzell, Dr. E. J. March, C. McCullough Everhard, Emma W. Cantine and W. W. Gilson.

A petition for alimony and the custody of her 16-year-old daughter has been filed by Mrs. Isabella Nonamaker, of Massillon, against Henry Nonemaker. The petitioner alleges that her husband abandoned her in May, 1901; that he is employed at Reed & Company's glass works and is receiving good wages. She asks for a temporary injunction restraining him from disposing of his property. R. A. Pinn has charge of the case.

NASH SPENT $650.

Statements of Campaign Expenditures Filed.

Columbus, Nov. 9.—Governor Nash certified to the secretary of state on Friday that his election expense account amounted to $650, the full amount allowed under the Garfield law. He spent nothing for his nomination. The items are as follows: To Chairman Dick, of the state executive committee, $300; to W. G. Bowland, chairman of the Franklin county executive committee, $250; to personal campaign expenses, $85; to William Lynch, preparing list of colored voters, $10; to Tenth ward committeeman, for organization, $5.

I. B. Cameron, treasurer of state, today certified that his reelection cost him $503.50. The sum of $500 went to the state committee and $3.50 was spent for cards.

POLLOCK FOR SPEAKER.

Honor in Store for a Stark County Man.

It is said that State Representative R. A. Pollock, this county, is in a fair way to being chosen speaker of the next house. The matter was mentioned to Mr. Pollock Thursday, and he did not deny the soft impeachment, though modesty forbade his discussing it at length. It is understood that Mr. Pollock will receive the support of Hamilton county, and he stands well with some of the other powers. Mr. Pollock is now in Columbus, where the clans are already gathering for the ante-session fence building.

A MINER'S LUCK.

Wright Shaw Gets Money, Mine and Farm.

UNCLE LEFT THEM TO HIM.

A Member of the Massillon Rescue Mission Leaves for Columbus, Kan. — Remembered in a Will—His Family Will Remain in Lawrence.

Wright Shaw, a miner of North Lawrence, well known in this city, having been identified with the Rescue Mission for a number of years, Friday morning left for Columbus, Kan., where a large farm, a coal mine and several thousand dollars in money are soon to become his. A rich uncle of Mr. Shaw is dead, and so far as is known he is the only heir. The deceased was a bachelor.

Wright Shaw is 45 years old, and has a wife and family. He did not talk much of what he would do when his late uncle's property should become his, but he seemed to feel that there was no doubt it would fall to him. Mr. Shaw's family will remain in Lawrence for the present.

TOM JOHNSON AND 1904.

The Mayor Figures Out How He Will be Named for President.

Cleveland, Nov. 9.—Mayor Tom L. Johnson is so well pleased with the pronounced victory he won in Cuyahoga county on Tuesday that he is already beginning to plan a campaign to land him in the Presidential chair in 1905. It has been an open secret for some time that the mayor is not deaf to the Presidential bee that all his friends have been hearing buzz. One of the men who is closest to him said today that Tuesday's result could not have been better for the furtherance of his plan.

"The mayor thinks his victory in Cuayhoga county and the Democratic defeat in the state a complete vindication of himself and his issues," said this man. "He also thinks that his issues are the ones on which the Democratic party must stand in the future. He expects to be a candidate for reelection as mayor in the spring of 1903 and has no doubt of his election. Then he will be the logical Democratic candidate for governor in two years."

Standing on his present taxation platform and conducting his own campaign he feels that he can defeat Gen. Dick or any other candidate the Republicans may put forward. As governor of a nominally Republican state in the interior of the union he feels that he will be the logical candidate for the head of the Democratic ticket in 1904. He has no ambition to be senator from Ohio, as he looks on that office as the last resting place of a worn out politician. He refused the nomination for Governor at the last convention because he was satisfied that Nash could be reelected and believed that defeat would kill him politically.

"If he lives and retains his health he will certainly make the fight along the lines I have indicated."

FOR A MEMORIAL BELL.

Senator Hanna Gives $600 to Wooster University.

Wooster, Nov. 9.—At chapel exercises of Wooster University Thursday morning President Holden announced that Senator Hanna had give $600 with which to purchase a McKinley memorial bell for the new chapel nearing completion. Mr. Holden stated that Mr. Hanna had given the money some weeks since, but had asked as a favor that no announcement be made before election.

W. J. Shively, Batesville, O., speaking of Banner Salve, writes: "I used it for piles, and it has done me more good than any salve I have ever used, and I have tried a great many kinds." Rider & Snyder.

AT THE HOSPITAL.

Improvements Made by Engineer Haerlin.

M'KINLEY'S HALL DEDICATION.

It Will Take Place During the First Week in December—Superintendent Eyman Attends an Important Meeting at Columbus—Plan to Relieve County Infirmaries of Insane and Epileptic Patients.

Engineer Haerlin and his men are engaged in tearing up and relaying the stone walk between the administration and hospital buildings. The incline was reached by a succession of small steps at irregular intervals. Passing over this walk was tiresome and difficult, and at night extremely dangerous. The walk is now being laid without any steps and twenty feet further away from the hospital building. The space between the walk and the building will be regraded and terraced.

The date for the dedication of the new McKinley Hall has not yet been positively fixed but it will probably be the first week in December. It is not thought that the building will be finished earlier. Dr. Eyman says that Governor Nash has promised to be present.

Dr. Frank E. Bunts, professor of surgery in the Western Reserve University, of Cleveland, and his assistant, Dr. Jones, were at the institution Friday. They were called to perform an operation of an unusual character. The operation was successful.

William Capeller went to his home in Mansfield and M. M. Dumble to Marion to vote on Tuesday.

Steward S. O. Lartimer visited in Ashtabula Tuesday.

Superintendent H. C. Eyman was in Columbus Thursday attending a meeting of the State Board of Charities and the superintendents of the different state hospitals. The purpose of the meeting was to formulate a plan for providing for the insane now confined in the county infirmaries. A law, enacted by the last legislature, requires that all the insane and all epileptics in the county infirmaries shall be maintained by the state after June 1, 1901. There are at present about eight hundred insane and epileptics in the different county infirmaries in the state. On motion by Governor Nash, who is ex-officio president of the State Board of Charities, the following committee was appointed to formulate and propose some plan: General Brinkerhoff and R. H. Platt, of the State Board of Charities; Dr. E. G. Carpenter, superintendent of the Columbus state hospital, and Dr. H. C. Eyman, superintendent of the Massillon state hospital. This committee was instructed to report not later than November 25. It is understood that the committee will recommend the construction of a separate institution for the criminal insane, of which there are at present about four hundred in the different state institutions. This would greatly relieve the hospitals and would provide for about half the insane now confined in the county infirmaries. It will be further recommended that appropriations for new cottages at several institutions will be asked for to provide for the remainder. Governor Nash is interested in the proposed plan and it is said that his influence will be exerted in securing an appropriation from the next legislature.

STILL IN DOUBT.

Republicans Demand Official Count in Maryland.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 7.—Returns received today show the election of two Democratic delegates in Cecil county and one in Baltimore city. These returns are not accepted by the Republicans, who claim the official count will elect Republican delegates to those places. The control of the lower house depends upon these delegates.

It was formerly thought that a rainy day was synonymous with Democratic success and clear skies with Republican triumphs, but such is the case no longer. In many parts of Iowa at Tuesday's election it snowed, and the explanation given of Republican gains in those districts is that the snow took the farmers from the wheat fields. It took a great many. Iowa gave over 90,000 Republican majority for governor.

A notable feature of Tuesday's election throughout the country was the great gain which the Republican party has made in the support its candidates received in the large cities. Heretofore these cities, with a few exceptions, have usually inclined to the Democratic party, while the great source of Republican strength has been in the rural districts. Republican lead continues as heretofore in the rural districts, but the large cities of the country have now a decided leaning toward the Republican party.

General Grosvenor, of Ohio, says there is no more chance now that the Republicans in congress will attempt a revision of the tariff at the next session than that they will revise the ten commandments. "The result of the election in Ohio," he said, in an interview in Washington, "ought to put a stop to the talk of tariff revision. The Democrats made their campaign squarely on the proposition to change the existing tariff law. They were overwhelmingly defeated. The lesson to be derived from the results is apparent."

A much needed reform will be brought about when the law enacted by the last general assembly providing that no more insane persons shall be maintained in county infirmaries is made effective. The unfortunates who are mentally unsound need the sort of care and intelligent supervision with which it is practically impossible to provide them in county institutions. Besides, it is a flagrant injustice to persons in their right minds to confine them in close proximity to the insane. The new law will go into effect January 1, 1903. After that date not a single insane person should be kept in Ohio's poor houses or infirmaries.

The New York Sun wants to know if the lack of pumpkins is attributable to imperialism, to trusts, to the gold standard or to the absence of the initiative and referendum. "What are folks going to eat?" it asks. "Potatoes have entered into a combination to limit the supply and put up prices. Apples, ashamed of themselves as the raw material of cider, have respected the scurples of the Drys and cut their own crop. Sad news comes from up this state that pumpkins are few and not especially fit. What is the world coming to? Potatoes are a luxury: apples are a dissipation: pumpkins are a necessity of life. Take out of American literature and history the thoughts that have been thought and the deeds that have been done under the inspiration of pumpkin pie and what is left? Without it, what is man and where is Thanksgiving Day?"

MOTTOES OF LI HUNG CHANG.

Li Hung Chang's favorite mottoes in regard to women were culled from the choicest of those of his nation's literature. Thus he would say:

"Let the family of a man who has brought them comfort look up to him as up to heaven.

"The children shall not speak in boisterous tones before him, or the women cease to smile and look happy

"He shall have a son to perpetuate the monuments of his ancestors and he shall take wives until that supreme ambition is gratified.

"Upon his walls shall be rules of decorum, and seeing him look toward them all women shall bow upon the floor in shame.

"A wife may not spend her husband's money in thought even, taking the gowns in gratitude asking no more. If few, she shall not deport herself in languid demeanor, but shall walk with energy, as though well pleased."

Two Hundred Massillonians Attend Thursday Evening.

Navarre, Nov. 8.—Two hundred Massillonians came down Thursday evening for the fire works and the special attraction at St. Clement's church fair. The Navarre band went to Massillon and escorted the first delegation. Addresses were made by Mayor Wise, of Massillon, and Mayor Warwick, of this place. Mayor Wise, on behalf of the Massillon people, thanked the Navarre citizens for their invitation and complimented them, especially the ladies of St. Clement's church, on the success of the fair. Mr. Warwick welcomed the guests in a brief address and asked that the friendly relations now existing between the towns be maintained. The fire works were set off in front of the rink. The grand prize drawing was held and many beautiful and useful prizes were awarded to the holders of the lucky numbers.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. THE WORK BEFORE CONGRESS.

Mr. Hanna and President Roosevelt Discuss Political Matters — Conference with Secretary Cortelyou Concerning the McKinley Monument to be Built at Canton—The Ohio Senator Much Sought After.

A special dispatch to the Cleveland Leader from Washington, quotes Senator Hanna as follows: "There should be no revision of the tariff other than that involved in the reciprocity treaties, which will probably come up for ratification at the coming session of congress. That is the construction which I have placed, and I think properly, upon President McKinley's last public speech, delivered at the Buffalo exposition two months ago. The President's ideas on this question were clearly stated, and there can be no doubt or ambiguity about what he meant. No tariff revision was the most conspicuous issue in the Ohio campaign this year, and the vote last Tuesday indicated that the people of our state were willing to 'let well enough alone.'"

The dispatch continues: That expresses Senator M. A. Hanna's notions upon the subject, which is receiving a great deal of attention throughout the United States. I have quoted him almost literally. The senator said, furthermore, that he expected that several reciprocity treaties along the same general lines as those which were negotiated last winter would be redrawn and presented to the senate for ratification the coming winter. He would not venture an opinion whether such treaties would be approved or not, but made this simple comment: "A good many interests were opposed to the old treaties with France, Argentine Republic, and the British Indies, and I presume the same opposition will assert itself again. It is difficult to predict what will be done on the subject of reciprocity."

The senator reached Washington Friday morning, and anybody who thinks he has lost any of his great prestige or does not come near being the "whole thing" is badly mistaken. Nearly everybody seemed to know that he was coming to the city, and was on the lookout for him. Almost the first place he went after getting a room at the Arlington hotel was the White House, where he was expected by President Roosevelt It was just about time for the cabinet to assemble and the senator's arrival almost broke up the meeting Every member of the cabinet was delighted to see him, and he was compelled to hold an impromptu reception, which lasted beyond the usual time for the administrative council to begin. He had a short talk with the President beforehand, and before he got away the secretary of war prevailed upon him to lunch with him.

After luncheon the senator was extremely busy, and was, perhaps, the most sought after man in town. The most that he could do with nearly everybody who succeeded in catching him was to greet him cordially with a hearty "How do you do? Glad to see you, and how are you?" This evening he had barely time to get a shave and put on his Tuxedo and keep an engagement to take dinner at the White House. Tomorrow morning he will go to Philadelphia on business, and thence to New York, whence he will return directly to Cleveland.

Mr. Hanna and the President had quite a visit after dinner tonight. They talked over several matters concerning work that will come before congress. They also discussed political matters. If the President asked the senator for suggestions upon tariff revision and reciprocity the opening paragraph in this dispatch expresses succinctly Mr. Hanna's reply. If the ship subsidy question was brought up the senator most certainly advised the President that he could do the country no better service than to recommend the enactment of legislation which would result in upbuilding the American merchant marine.

"A new subsidy bill will, of course, be introduced, and I expect to see it pass," he said this evening.

"How about trusts!?" I asked him.

"The smile on the senator's face broadened as he replied: "Oh, go away."

"But the President intends to take a strong position on this subject," I suggested.

"Well, nobody has a better right," was the senator's good-natured rejoiner.

After his informal reception in the cabinet room was over this morning, Mr. Hanna had an extended conference with Secretary Cortelyou regarding the project to build a monument to the late President at Canton. On account of the similarity of names, a good many people throughout the country are confusing the McKinley Memorial Arch Association of this city with the McKinley Memorial Association that was organized in Cleveland, and as a consequence they are in doubt as to which one to contribute. It is the senator's decided opinion that the arch project should be secondary to the Canton memorial plan.

"The first place to receive consideration is the burial place of our late President," said Mr. Hanna. This sentiment was endorsed by the President and the members of the cabinet with whom the senator talked for a few minutes before taking leave. It is quite probable that an understanding will be reached with the Washington association that will facilitate the progress of both memorial projects. Secretary Cortelyou will consult with officers of the McKinley Arch Association, whose headquarters are in this city, with a view to harmonizing the work of both. Moreover, an effort may be made to have congress appropriate most of the money that is necessary to construct the arch which is to constitute one of the principal features of the memorial bridge across the Potomac at Arlington Heights.

"ONLY MR. ROOSEVELT."

A Sensation Created in a Quiet New York Household.

"Mrs. Flynn, is Aunt Mary here?" President Theodore Roosevelt had stopped off on his way back to Washington from Oyster Bay and climbed a dark stairway to the second floor of the house No. 150 East Forty-eighth street, Manhattan, to call upon the old nurse, Mrs. Mary Ledwith, who had nursed not only Mrs. Roosevelt herself when she was a baby, but all of the children of Mrs. Roosevelt and the President.

"Yes, she is here," said Mrs. Flynn, who is Aunt Mary's sister; "but I can't see who you are."

"Just say it's 'Mr Roosevelt,' and that I want to see her, please. I came up to see how she is."

Mrs. Flynn, though she had known the Roosevelts for many years, was not unnaturally a bit "flustered" by the honor of a visit from the President of the United States, with his secretary and valet and detectives waiting outside.

She ushered him into her little sitting room and then went and acquainted the old nurse, seated in an invalid's chair in another room.

"It's the President of the United States, and he has come up to see you," said Mrs. Flynn.

"The President of the United States!" echoed Aunt Mary, in amazement.

"Certainly, and he says to tell you that if you are not too ill he wants to see you."

A light dawned on the old nurse's mind.

"Oh, the President! I'll be bound now that it's nobody but Mr. Roosevelt. Why, you quite took my breath away."

And then she fixed her hair a bit, as women will, old or young, and, adjusting her glasses, announced that the President could be shown in.

Mr. Roosevelt came in smiling and bent over the old nurse and shook her hand. Then he drew up a chair and sat down beside her. He told her how sorry he was that she was ill.

In a few minutes the bell rang again and Mrs. Roosevelt came in and took a seat on the other side of the nurse. She remained only a short time and then went to another room to be fitted with some gowns which Mrs. Flynn is making for her.

When the President's party came out the sidewalk was lined with children, who set up a cheer. Some of them called for a speech. The President passed through the crowd, patting their heads and laughing as he went.

In the meantime the old nurse, in her invalid's chair, was smiling happily and saying over and over: "He ain't a bit changed; not a bit. He might be ten times the President, and still be just Mr. Roosevelt, always thoughtful and kind."

Mrs. Ledwith has been in Mrs. Roosevelt's family for forty-five years. She is 76 yeas old and has the culture that comes of much travel with refined people, besides a good deal of kindness of heart. She took care of Mrs. Roosevelt in her childhood, accompanied her abroad, and has been the right hand of the present lady of the White House in the care of her children. A few weeks ago, on her way from Oyster Bay to Washington, she was taken suddenly ill and was carried to the home of her sister, Mrs. Flynn. As soon as she recovers sufficiently she will go back to the Roosevelts at the White House.

She is quite overcome by the fame that has been thrust upon her by the President's call and says: "They were nice people before they went to the White House to live."

The river bridge is badly in need of repairs. Many planks are lying loose with not a single spike to hold them in place. The supervisor claims he has no authority to buy a few nails and the powers that be are slow in looking after matters.

A surprise was tendered Ludwig Homro Wednesday night, in honor of his fifty-fifth birthday. The Crystal Spring brass band furnished music Many Massillon people were present.

Lewis Sich, who left last May for a visit to his parents in Wurtemberg, Germany, has arrived on this side of the Atlantic again and is in Millport. He says that he will never cross that body of water again as far as labor, wages and pleasure are concerned. Twelve years ago he left the fatherland and has prospered in America. Not a single change has taken place, he says, at his old home. No improvements have been made and the people are no farther advanced than they were twelve years ago. Mr. Sich stated that he called at the home of an old friend one day, but was informed that his friend was in the field working. He went back the second time to see him but still the friend was not in. On the third trip he found his former neighbor fast asleep in bed. And so it is, he says; all they do and know is work and sleep.

All the mines in this community worked a half day Friday, in order to give the miners a chance to attend the mass meeting held at Massillon Saturday.

The Pennsylvania Company has been loading about sixty cars of gravel each day, at its new pit near town. A vein of cement gravel has been struck, causing some trouble but is being gotten out by the use of dynamite. The gravel is being unloaded along the M. & C. tracks, which are soon to be raised.

CALLAHAN IS FREE.

Found Not Guilty of Cudahy Kidnaping and Is Discharged.

CROWE LIKELY TO RETURN.

Probably Same Evidence Would Be Used, In Case He Should Be Put on Trial—Callahan Previously Acquitted of Robbery Charge.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 9.—The jury in the case of James Callahan, after being out 36 hours, brought in a verdict finding the defendant not guilty and the prisoner was discharged. This is the last echo in the Cudahy kidnaping case, and is practically the second time Callahan has been acquitted of the kidnaping charge.

The accused was arrested last February, charged with being an accessory to the kidnaping of Edward A. Cudahy, Jr., son of the millionaire packer. Callahan was first tried on a charge of robbery. A trial followed, extending over two weeks, during which about 200 witnesses were examined. The jury returned a verdict of acquittal and was severely scored by Judge Baker, who presided.

Callanan was then held on a charge of perjury in the robbery trial. During the present trial the prisoner gave way to the nervous strain and collapsed in the court room. When the clerk read the verdict and pronounced the words, "Not guilty," the prisoner gave a sigh of relief and his friends crowded around to offer their congratulations. The judge discharged the prisoner.

It was remarked that there is now little to prevent Pat Crowe from coming to Omaha. The evidence on which Callahan has been tried would probably prevail in case of Crowe being tried on the same charges, and County Attorney Shields last night gave it as his opinion that Crowe will now return.

BULGARIA ON DEFENSIVE.

Hampers Dickinson, Evidently to Prevent Miss Stone's Surrender on Bulgarian Soil.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Nov. 9.—The government caused the arrest of a man who was visiting United States Consul General Dickinson and searched him, presumably thinking he was an emissary of the brigands, and expecting to seize a communication from or to Miss Ellen M. Stone, the American missionary. The man was subsequently released. This action of the authorities was seemingly a deliberate attempt to frighten delegates who might visit Mr Dickinson, and thus prevent negotiations from taking place in Bulgarian territory. The attitude of the authorities hampers Mr. Dickinson, as the brigands refuse to treat in Turkey.

2 CONVICTS KILLED.

Six Others Were Captured, Two of Them Being Wounded.

WARDEN SAYS HE'LL GET ALL.

Five Discovered In a Barn by a Farmer and Were Pursued by a Posse, When a Running Fight Occurred.

Leavenworth, Kan., Nov. 9.—All the police, deputy sheriffs and farmers in the county adjacent to Leavenworth were on the lookout for the 26 federal convicts who escaped from the stockade. As a result two convicts have been killed, two were wounded and five captured unhurt. The casualties took place in a fight near Nortonville, Kan., and resulted in the death or capture of five men.

The dead:

James Hoffman, aged 20, white.

J. J. Poffenholz, aged 25, white, a soldier convict.

The wounded:

John Green, aged 21, white, recaptured.

Willard, Drake, white, aged 19, recaptured.

The five men were discovered in the barn of Fay Weishaar, near Nortonville, Kan., about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Weishaar went into the barn and was ordered out at the point of guns. He rushed to Nortonville and gathered a posse of men, who, with revolvers, shotguns and a few Winchesters, hastened to the scene. The convicts saw the men coming and rushed from the barn.

Two Convicts Killed.

The convicts had a rifle, a shotgun and an old revolver. Hoffman had the shotgun. He was shot first in the hand. He yelled and dropped the gun. Just then a bullet entered his back and he fell dead. Poffenholz died 40 minutes after being shot. Green was brought down by a bullet in the knee. Drake was shot twice. He says Sol Southerland, an Indian, was shot in the fight at the stockade.

Reports came from numerous points yesterday of the arrest of men supposed to be fugitive convicts, but non of the suspects has been identified. The oldest of the fugitives is aged 28.

Quinn Fort, who was killed Thursday, was 19 years old. One of the convicts still at large is a military prisoner and the remainder were serving terms for robbery or assault. One is an Indian and two are negroes. Nearly all came from Oklahoma and Indian territory, and they are supposed to be making for that country. They are hardy men, used to firearms and horses. Some have obtained both, but others are on foot and defenseless. Warden McClaughey says he will capture every one of them. In the districts around the city every road and river crossing that the fugitives might be expected to use is guarded by armed men, the farmers having turned out to earn the $60 reward that will be paid for the return of each convict. Those of the men who are armed are likely to be shot on sight.

Other Convicts Captured.

Two more convicts, Donald Norie and R. L. Davenport, were captured yesterday in a field two miles north of Jarbale. They were hiding in a ravine, and, being unarmed, they surrendered without resistance.

Two unarmed convicts were found hiding in a ravine on a farm near Jarbalo, Kan., and they surrendered without resistance. The sheriff of Douglass county captured two convicts at Lawrence, Kan.

The convicts captured at Lawrence were Ole Babo, a half breed Indian, and Joseph H. Deekin, a soldier serving a term for desertion and assault to kill. Frank Thompson, the negro desperado, who led the outbreak, is supposed to be near Lawrence, heavily armed. He will probably not be taken alive.

CARNEGIE IN PITTSBURG.

Likely to Consider New Technical School and Other Plans.

Pittsburg, Nov. 9.—Andrew Carnegie is in Pittsburg once more. He arrived at the East Liberty station of the Pennsylvania railroad at 8:50 o'clock last night on the limited. Mr. Carnegie's only traveling companion was his private secretary, Mrs. Carnegie and little Miss Carnegie remaining in the east.

In the interim Mr. Carnegie will make a personal inspection of the various departments of the Carnegie institute. He will attend the orchestra concert this afternoon.

He will also visit the art galleries and museum, and arrange to meet the committee on plans and scope of the Carnegie technical schools and go over the work they have in hand.

It is expected that some interesting announcements will be made before these conferences are completed.

On Tuesday afternoon Mr. Carnegie will meet the board of trustees of the Carnegie institute in the board room of the Carnegie company in the Carnegie building. This meeting is scheduled to take place at 3 o'clock and the entire board is expected to be present.

After all the meetings are over and Mr. Carnegie has decided upon his plans for the future work of his favorite institution he expects to return to New York.

There is a good deal of interest attached to the present visit of Mr. Carnegie to Pittsburg. The condition of the technical school plans and the proposed site for the buildings that will be included in them are momentous to Pittsburg. The other beneficiaries of the iron master and faithful friend of Pittsburg have aroused much deep interest.

It is known that the whole matter of extending the work of the institute and of the development of the present immature plans of the technical school rests upon the action to be taken within the next few days.

MEMORIALS FOR M'KINLEY.

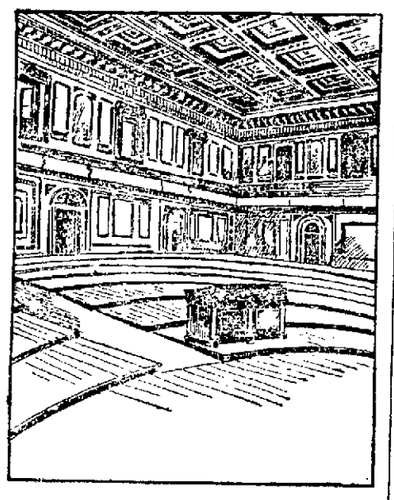
Plans Discussed by Representatives. Hanna Visited White House. News of the Capital.

Washington, Nov. 9.—The plans of the two associations formed for the purpose of erecting memorials to the late President McKinley, the monument at Canton and the arch in Washington, were the subject of an informal conference between Senator Hanna and Secretary Cortelyou, representing the Ohio organization, and Commissioner H. B. F. MacFarland, of the Washington Memorial association. There was a general comparison of notes regarding the work undertaken by the two bodies and an exchange of ideas as to the methods adopted for raising money. An earnest desire was expressed to avoid any conflict of the two organizations, as the end sought by both associations is the same, viz., the perpetuation of the memory of the lamented president. An effort will be made to prevent any possible confusion or embarrassment in the collection of subscriptions, and both organizations will use their utmost efforts to accomplish the purpose for which they were set on foot. The conference showed that both bodies are well organized to prosecute the work undertaken. No definite action was taken, as the gathering was, as above stated, informal and for purposes of consultation.

Hanna Visits White House.

Mr. Hanna made his first visit to the White House since the death of the late President McKinley. He was accompanied by John G. Milburn, of Buffalo, at whose residence Mr. McKinley died. The president received both of them cordially, and when the members of the cabinet assembled, shortly after their arrival, he took them into the cabinet room, where they shook hands with the cabinet officers.

Later while the cabinet was in session Senator Hanna and Mr. Milburn spent some time with Secretary Cortelyou discussing plans of the National



NEW FLOOR ARRANGEMENT FOR HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

William McKinley Memorial association, of which they are trustees. It is the intention of the association to perfect an organization in every state to raise funds by popular subscription for the nation's tribute to the martyred president.

Knox Explains Carter Case.

Attorney General Knox explained to the president and cabinet that Captain Carter was not to be given a new trial before Judge Kohlsaat, as has been erroneously reported. The government attached about $150,000 of the property, belonging to Captain Carter, and the question which will be tried before Judge Kohlsaat relates only to the title to that property.

Incidentally, of course, the question of Captain Carter's conviction by military court will be raised, but Attorney General Knox told the cabinet that it was in no sense a new trial of Captain Carter's case before a civil tribunal. Attorney General Knox said that with the $150,000, which the government soon will recover, the total amount restored to the government will foot up over $500,000.

After Dr. Mary Walker.

The pension bureau is investigating utterances attributed to Dr. Mary Walker, the ex-army nurse, who is alleged to have called the execution of Czolgosz, the late President McKinley's assassin, a murder, and the late president himself a murderer on account of his policy in the Philippines. A special examiner of the pension office is at Oswego, N. Y., investigating the matter, and his report will be kept on file at the bureau here in readiness for submission to congress in case that body should call for it. Commissioner Evans explained that he had no authority to revoke the woman's pension, but that congress could do so if it desired.

CANAL TREATY MAY SOON BE ARRANGED.

The British ambassador had a half hour's talk with Secretary Hay in regard to the preparation of the new Hay-Pauncefote treaty. It is expected that, in view of the progress that has been made, the convention may be concluded, so far as the executive branch of the government is concerned, the latter part of next week.

Escaped From Moundsville Prison.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 9.—William Lee, a life prisoner from McDowell, and J. E. Walton, a United States prisoner from Washington, D. C., under 10 years' sentence, escaped from the Moundsville penitentiary by scaling the 25-foot wall by means of a rope ladder. Lee was a cripple, being compelled to use crutches on account of injuries received when arrested. A searching party with bloodhounds is on the trail of the fugitives.

A Bank Robbed.

Yankton, S. D., Nov. 9.—The Bank of Scotland, S. D., was robbed of $5,000. The explosion blowing the safe aroused citizens, who hurried to the bank building just in time to see the robbers make their escape on horses.

THE CZAR IS FOILED.

Li, Before Death Quarreled With Russian Minister, Over Manchuria.

JAPAN GETS UPPER HAND.

Induced Southern Viceroys to Petition Empress Dowager Against Treaty. Instruction Not to Sign Reached Li While Unconscious.

Pekin, Nov. 9.—The diplomatic events preceding the death of Li Hung Chang enabled apan for a moment to frustrate the designs of Russia. A fortnight ago the Japanese legation secured a reliable outline of the terms of the treaty, and thereupon demanded that the Chinese plenipotentiaries officially lay before them the text, basing this demand upon the allegation that Japanese interests were involved in any change of the status of Manchuria.

The Chinese plenipotentiaries refused to comply with the demand. Thereupon the Japanese government from Tokio communicated with the southern viceroys and induced them to use their influence with the empress dowager against the treaty. In the meantime the empress dowager instructed Li Hung Chang to communicate the treaty, after certain modifications, to the ministers of the powers, and, if they did not object, to sign the same.

Li Explained Instructions.

Li Hung Chang visited M. Lessar and explained to him the instructions. The Russian minister strongly objected to revealing the text of the treaty to the ministers of the other powers, and a stormy interview ensued. Li Hung Chang went home in a violent passion and had a hemorrhage, which the doctors attribute to the overexertion of a weakened system.

While these things were happening in Pekin the southern viceroys sent to the empress dowager a memorial against the treaty. On receiving it she telegraphed to Li Hung Chang countermanding the order to sign.

This instruction came after Li Hung Chang had become unconscious. When M. Lessar endeavored to have Li Hung Chang's seal affixed to the treaty, Chou Fu, provincial treasurer, had arrived from Pao Ting. Fu had taken charge of the seals as the temporary successor of Earl Li.

U. S. FLAG HALF-MASTED.

Only One In Memory of the Late Chinese Statesman.

Pekin, Nov. 9.—The flag of the United States legation was the only one half-masted in Pekin yesterday. The mourners and the family of Li Hung Chang will burn paper offerings today, in accordance with custom, for the use of his spirit in the other world. The street is hung with mourning emblems. All the attendants at the yamen are richly attired and many of them gaudily dressed. Yesterday musicians beat drums about the house.

Li Hung Chang's estate will remain intact for the use of his eldest son, who will provide for the other members of the family.

Yuan Shi Kai's successor in the governorship of the province of Shang Tung is an unknown man, who has been holding an unimportant though lucrative position as grain commissioner in one of the inland towns of the province. He will be watched with the deepest solicitude, as the peace of China will largely depend upon his course.

Wang Wen Shao, who is 74 years of age and deaf, was never rated as a statesman or a diplomat. His appointment is probably temporary.

FRANCE WILL VACATE PORT.

To Quit Mitylene as Soon as the Sultan Issues an Irade Regarding Demand.

Paris, Nov. 9.—An official note was issued to the effect that the porte had decided to yield to all the demands of France, and that as soon as the sultan has issued an irade ratifying the decision the French squadron will leave Mitylene.

The Temps prints a dispatch from Constantinople which says that the sultan in accepting the French demands firstly authorizes the working of the French schools, hitherto unrecognized; secondly, he recognizes, officially, the existence of the religious and hospitable institutions already founded, and accords them customs immunity and exemption from certain taxes, and, thirdly, he authorizes the reconstruction of the schools and hospitable institutions destroyed at the time of the Armenian troubles, of which a detailed list is attached to the French note.

Constantinople, Nov. 9.—The porte has officially notified M. Bapst, the French charge d'affaires here, by letter, of Turkey's acceptance of all the French demands. Tewfik Pasha, Turkish minister of foreign affairs, has ordered all the Turkish ministers to notify the governments to which they are representatives of Turkey's action in the matter.

Admiral Caillard, commander of the French fleet, will give up the Mitylene reports he seized as soon as the sultan's irade announcing the settlement is issued. As a precautionary measure he will cruise in neighboring waters till the claims are actually settled.

Schley To Visit Nashville

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 9.—Admiral Schley has accepted the invitation of the Knights Templar and Retail Merchants' association to visit Nashville and will probably do so in January. The admiral will be accompanied by Mrs. Schley.

A Physician Testifies.

"I have taken Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and have never used anything in my life that did me the good that did," says County Physician Geo. W. Scroggs, of Hall County, Ga. "Being a physician I have prescribed it and found it to give the best results." If the food you eat remains undigested in your stomach it decays there and poisons the system. A Few Observations Regarding Taxes:

Taxes are now due.

First half payable between October 1 and December 20.

Last half payable between April 1 and June 20.

Taxes become a lien on property the day preceding the second Monday of April.

After July 20 those owing June taxes are delinquent.

All delinquent taxes must be paid before December 20, otherwise the property will be advertised, and the third Tuesday of January, be sold for taxes.

After becoming delinquent, the penalty on Real Estate is 15 per cent.; on delinquent Personal Tax the penalty is 10 per cent. These penalties do not belong to the Treasurer, and therefore cannot be remitted.

After tax sale, the penalty the first year to tax title purchases is 15 per cent., plus 6 per cent interest; the second year the penalty is 25 per cent., plus 6 per cent, interest. If not redeemed within two years the property goes to the tax title purchaser.

Taxpayers have option of paying full year's taxes during December collection period, but are required to pay first half with delinquencies. The remaining half should be paid within June collection.

The tax year and calendar year are not the same. The first half of any year's tax is due and payable October 1, and until December 20. The second half is payable up to June 1 of the following year.

Many taxpayers have formed the habit of paying the December tax and the preceding June tax together thinking they are paying the full year's tax. All such are paying the last half of one year's tax and the first half of the following year's tax and consequently they are paying 15 per cent penalty on the preceding June tax. The proper way to pay a full year's tax without penalty, is to pay in December for December and June.

Dog Tax and Road Tax are paid in full at the December collection each year. Therefore get the December rate and the road to the whole rate and take half. To get the June rate subtract the road rate from the full rate and take half. To get the December payment multiply the valuation by the December rate, adding one dollar for each male dog assessed and two dollars for each female dog.

Checks given in payment of taxes do not liquidate the county's claim until honored at the bank. When checks are not paid on presentation, the taxes for which the checks were given will be reopened without notice to person giving such checks.

When paying taxes, present your last receipt, as it assists very much in locating your property and tends to avoid error.

When you ask by mail for the amount of your taxes, designate your property clearly. State name in which the property is listed, name the township and section. If in city, give city, ward and lot number.

The tax duplicates give the property in the name in which it stood the day preceding the second Monday of April of the year for which the taxes are levied. So that any transfer made on or after the second Monday of April of any year will not appear on the tax duplicate until the next year.

The Treasurer's Office will be open between the hours of 8:00 a. m. and 4:00 p. m. from the 1st day of October to the 20th day of December, and from the first day of April to the 20th day of June, for the purpose of receiving taxes charged on the tax duplicate.

To insure prompt answer, all inquiries made by mail concering taxes should be forwarded prior to December 10 and June 10. While every effort will be made to accommodate the public, taxpayers are urgently requested to call early and pay their taxes and thus save themselves, as well as the Treasurer, the disagreeable rush at the end of the season.

Treasurer's Office, Canton, O., October 1, 1901.

Pearl Lohr and Elmer Corman, of Richville, who were arrested on a charge of destroying property of William E. Miller on Hallowe'en, had a hearing before Justice Paul Monday afternoon and both were discharged, as the evidence was not sufficient to prove their guilt. Justice Paul discharged the prisoners without defense.

Attorney R. W McCaughy was injured Friday evening by a fall from the hay loft, in his barn in Wellman street, to the floor below. In the fall he struck his head against a post cutting the scalp to the skull. The wound is two inches long and required several stitches. He is otherwise bruised about the body. Mr. McCaughy was unconscious for some time. When he regained his senses he was scarcely able to make his way to the house. Dr. T. J. Reed dressed his injuries.

W. H. Romoser, superintendent of the C., L. & W., was in the city yesterday looking after company business. Mr. Rosomer finds more work being piled on him every day and is kept on the go continually. Mr. Oppenheimer's original plan was to go to Europe some months later, but the news that a sister is seriously ill in Nidder Wiesen caused him to decide upon an earlier date.

Miss Pauline Harrison gave a masquerade party at her Cedar street home Friday evening. The fifty guests present were arrayed in grotesque and fantastic costumes. Advice a Union Official Gives Miners.

AT THE MASS MEETING HERE.

State President Haskins Declares Labor Should Have More Representatives in the Legislature and on the Bench —Bitterly Criticizes National Union Officials — National Vice President Lewis Scathingly Arraigns ex-Officials.

A mass meeting of miners of the Massillon district, which is comprised of five counties, was held in the Armory Saturday afternoon, attendance 300. National Vice President Lewis, of Bellaire; State President Haskins, of Murray, and State Vice President Sullivan, of Coshocton, of the United Mine Workers of America, were present. Notwithstanding the statement of the local officials of the union that the purpose of the meeting was a "revival of interest" among the members, a number of grievances came up.

It was stated that at North Lawrence the driver of a mule had been forced out of work, and owing to the fact that most of the Massillon mines now belong to the Massillon Coal Mining Company he had been unable to secure another job. The officers of the union are to investigate. A strike of all the miners employed by the company, it was stated, should be called in case of a refusal of the company to right matters. "For God's sake," admonished District President Legg, "never call a one mine strike. Its day is past."

The request of the Massillon Coal Mining Company that, under certain circumstances, on certain days, the miners begin work at 9 o'clock instead of 7 o'clock, it was decided, should be referred to all the locals for a vote. Mr. Lewis advised that the request be refused, declaring it to be a violation of the eight-hour agreement, and saying that the effect of favorable action would be felt throughout the state.

District President Robert Legg, of East Greenville, presided at the meeting. In stating the object of the meeting, Mr. Legg remarked that never before in the history of the district had a special meeting been called except to demand an increase in wages or to prepare plans for fighting a reduction. All of the speakers dwelt upon the necessity of holding more of these "peace conferences."

State President Haskins was the first speaker introduced. He said that the Massillon district was the only one in the state which has shown itself able to take care of its own affairs. He referred to the fame of the Massillon district as the birthplace of several of the greatest leaders organized labor has ever had. He said that nearly all this year has been consumed in getting settlements in various fields in the state. The greatest difficulty, he said has been experienced in making settlements. This fact, he said, should be significant to every miner, and that it is the duty of the organization to prepare for any emergency that may arise in January.

"We must always be prepared for war," said he. "I am not here to create an excitement but I hold that the only way we can maintain our position is to be always prepared to defend it. It was necessary for us recently to levy an assessment to support fellow miners in this state who are striking for what is right. I am glad to say that with the exception of Jackson county we have received a liberal response. I believe that our organization is in a condition to fight the DeArmits, in the trouble at Bellaire, to a standstill and eventually win. If any miner in the Massillon district wants to know why the DeArmits should be fought to a standstill I suggest to him that he spend two weeks in the employ of the DeArmits—a reduction of 20 cents a ton and other conditions to odious to mention."

Mr. Haskins declared that it is not true that the state officials called out the Columbiana county miners. He said the miners asked assistance and it was given them by the officials.

"Now about the DeArmits," continued Mr. Haskins. "They pay 67½ cents a ton and you must sign a contract agreeing that if you leave the employ of the company without permission you lose a percentage of your pay, which is held back all the time that you are at work."

"That's no law in this country," called out one man.

"My friend," replied Mr. Haskins, "there is much going on in this country that is not according to law."

Mr. Haskins rated organized labor for not having a larger representation in the legislative bodies and for not electing the kind of judges who will favor labor. He deplored the fact that judges are so easily bought. He declared that labor will never get its right till every organized man votes for men who will protect his interests. He regretted the fact that the miners' organization had not contributed to the steel strikers' assistance. He said that the contribution was not made because of an adverse sentiment on the part of the rank and file, but because the men in charge of the miners' affairs failed to do their duty.

"Get into politics," he advised. "Vote for the men who are your friends. I don't have anything to say against men now in political offices who have risen there from the offices of labor unions. It's probably better that they are there. I am not giving you this advice, only to turn around myself and take a job, for in the first place the men in power are not in sympathy with my views along many lines."

At the conclusion of Mr. Haskins' speech, Robert Berger, from west of the city, rose to ask why it was that miners employed by the DeArmits could not receive money that they had worked for, whether they quit or not. He said that was contrary to law and to right.

"If you or any other man," replied Mr. Haskins, "can find the stopper that can stop this, we'll take you to Bellaire tomorrow. We have been unable to discover it. The men who work for DeArmit have contracts agreeing to those things, and we have not found a means of breaking these contracts."

MR. SULLIVAN'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Sullivan was introduced. He began to tell a funny story.

"Tell us something that will be good for us, and let the stories go," called out one man.

"Now you keep still," replied Mr. Sullivan, "or I'll take off my coat and go after you."

"Come on," returned the man.

"I think you're a pretty good fellow anyhow," said Mr. Sullivan, "and after the meeting I'll look you up, have a talk with you and we'll be the best of friends."

"Well I don't know about that."

Then Mr. Sullivan took up the thread of his address only to meet with another interruption.

Cries of "Put him out!" were directed to the interrupter.

The chairman, at the suggestion of James Applebee, of this city, named John Adley, of Navare, and Evan Evans, of North Lawrence, sergeants-at-arms and instructed them to maintain order. Questions, it was held, should be asked after each speaker had finished his remarks.

Mr. Sullivan said that when he reflected upon the prejudice, covetousness and the jealousy that were injected into the organization in past days he felt surprised that there is any organization at all. He advised that all miners study the question of production and adopt means to restrict the product. By taking proper steps, he declared, the day will come when the miner will receive as much money for digging two tons of coal as they now receive for three or four tons. If the DeArmits succeed in forcing their men to accept a reduction, he declared, it would eventually affect the Massillon district. He said the miners' organization has leased land near the DeArmit mines, so that in case of a campaign the union men could camp at the place of action. He believed the battle ground of the state is at Belnaire with the DeArimts, and regretted that the union has a three-cornered fight on its hands, trouble being in existence in Jackson and Columbiana counties. Mr. Sullivan, in conclusion, paid a glowing tribute to Mr. Lewis.

MR. LEWIS'S ADDRESS.

National Vice President Lewis, of Bellaire, was introduced as "Tommy" Lewis. Mr. Lewis agreed with Messrs. Haskins and Sullivan that the U. M. W. of A. is the wonder of the age, but said that the union is not what it ought to be, and can never be what it ought to be until every miner takes a personal interest in the affairs of the organization. The jealousies and prejudices of which Mr. Sullivan spoke, he said, having originated and were prepetuated by the operators and their tools. The Mine Workers' Union, he said, to be a perfect organization must include all of the miners and mine laborers of the country. Mr. Lewis referred to ex-officials of the miners' organization who egotistically claim that to them personally belong the credit of securing the eight-hour day, the Chicago advance the Indianapolis advance and other improvements. "Such statements," said he, "make me sick. Where do you men come in? It's a reflection on you when any individual claims the honor for securing any concession. You are the people who brought about these improvements, not any particular person. As I said before, the men who say 'I got the eight-hour day for you men' and such things, make me sick and weary."

A round of applause followed this last remark, with cries of "Me too."

Dangers now facing the men, he said, are indifference on the part of the members. In too many places members fail to attend the meetings, but openly and unjustly criticize their officers.

A disposition on the part of some members to carry on the business of the organization on a cheap basis, he considers another danger. Cheap men, he said, do not exist in Massillon. Money is necessary to make the union strong and members should pay their dues freely and promptly.

Mr. Lewis discussed the centralization of the mining property. He said the miners have no particular objection to this so long as it is not done for the purpose of crushing the toilers. These large corporations have not the interest of the miners at heart, he said, citing, as an illustration, the fact that the Massillon Coal Mining Company now asks men to give up their eight-hour agreement and go to work when there are cars, probably several hours after the regular time for beginning work. The eight-hour agreement, he declared, calls for pay for all the time the miners spend at the mines and said that the men could not grant the company's request without violating the eight-hour agreement.

"Are you going to do this?" he demanded.

"No! No! No!" came a chorus from the audience.

Mr. Lewis held that West Virignia, now wholly without a union, can be organized. He also declared that it must be organized. He said there is a sentiment in favor of organization. Mr. Lewis told of a movement now said to be on foot in this state having for its purpose the dividing of the forces. In conclusion Mr. Lewis mentioned the contention as to whether the outside labor is under the jurisdiction of the U. M. W. of A. He said that it is true these men's wages are not regulated by contract, but that it will be when they are thoroughly organized. All men in and about the mines should be in the same union, thus shearing the operators of oppressive power. The mine worker, he said, is the most important factor in the industrial development of this country, and this fact should be impressed upon the American people.

Four Deaths From Explosion.

South Norwalk, Conn., Nov 9.—Mrs. Guy Deambera and her infant child, who were severely burned in a fire which consumed their home on Chapel street, died. This makes four deaths the record of the fire, two of the Deambera children having perished in the house. An explosion of a lamp, which spread burning oil over the family group while at supper, was the cause of the tragedy.
